FEATURING Judy Greenspon Founder and President of NPI Services

Harnessing Your Energy to Achieve

Friday, January 25, 2013 at 12:00 p.m.

Judy Greenspon built NPI from the ground up and offers her perspectives on the keys to success. These include harnessing your energy to take advantage of opportunities, creating and supporting an innovative and effective team, and having the vision to guide your company's growth through tough economic times. With the strength of her economic perspective, Judy has worked extensively and successfully within the competitive global technology market. She believes American innovation and commitment to quality will ensure our success in the coming century.

Judy Greenspon is the CEO of NPI Services, Inc., an electronic prototype manufacturing company which supports innovative engineering companies. After graduating with degrees in economics and computer programming, Judy spent three years in the Peace Corps, primarily in the Philippines. This experience shaped her outlook on life and her philanthropic efforts.
